About Shri Rama Navami and the Akhand Ramayan Puja

Shri Rama Navami is a celebration of the birth of Lord Rama. At Shanthi Mandir we are planning for a Shri Rama Navami Puja on Saturday immediately followed by Akhand Ramayan puja (Akhand means "uninterrupted" or "eternal", and Akhand Ramayan puja therefore involves the non-stop reading of the epic Ramayana). Tulsi Ramayan, the Ram Charit Manas, is a popular Avadhi (Eastern Hindi dialect) presentation of the great epic originally written in Sanskrit by Maharishi Valmiki. The Ram Charit Manas, written by Saint Goswami Tulsidas consists of seven chapters namely, Baal Kaand, Ayodhya Kaand, Aranya Kaand, Kishkindha Kaand, Sundar Kaand, Lanka Kaand and Uttar Kaand containing tales of King Dasaratha's court, the birth and boyhood of Rama and his brethren, his marriage to Sita - daughter of Janaka, his voluntary exile, the result of Kaikeyi's guile and Dasaratha's rash vow, the life together of Rama and Sita in the great central Indian forest, her abduction by Ravana, the expedition to Lanka and the overthrow of the demon-king, and the life at Ayodhya after the return of the reunited pair. The Ram Charit Manas is written in stanzas called chaupais, broken by dohas or couplets, with an occasional sortha and chhand. In addition to the two main readers, reading alternately, others can join in the regular "easy-to-follow" refrain. Those volunteering for the main reading task will be relieved on an hourly basis during the puja.

Please join us by reading, participating in the refrains, or listening to the Ramayan. We can also use lots of volunteers to organize the grand celebration. Volunteers can assist in the event by providing rides to students and the elderly, cooking, serving, supervising children, help with set-up/clean-up and numerous other chores.

Refreshments and food will be available for the duration of the puja. The "food and relaxation station" is located at the HTCC Educational Center on the Shanthi Mandir property (home behind the Mandir). Provisions for keeping the children safely occupied at this location are also available, thanks to parent volunteers.

Please remember to bring cans and other non-perishable food items for our ongoing Anna Daan project. Collections are donated to the Central Missouri Food Bank as and when our collection drums are full.
